To Police Chief Haywood Baxter in Pahokee a great big bouquet. He and his forces are bright yellow paint this week. It is a splendid move on the chief's part and will enhance parking facilities on every street in town.

There are some streets in Canal Point that need something done to them. Bumpy, rutted, and in some places they are so bad that a car will get stuck in them. Anyway, I'm going to start a one man investigation.

I stopped yesterday and inspected the new theatre building going up in Pahokee. It's a dandy. There may be some things in the country bigger but they couldn't be any nicer. It's up-to-the-minute in every respect. Everything new from start to finish. New building. New seats for the comfort of patrons. New sound equipment. I'll be glad to see opening day when Messrs. Gold and Dobrow will be proud of the new building. They should be. They're taking on the responsibility in the erection of it. Cost a lot of money. They deserve a great big handful of congratulations for their undertaking.

I'm wondering if the Everglades Chamber of Commerce will be glad to let me in. To keep the records straight, I might say that I could go on making a living, maybe without such an organization. But I'm wondering if it wouldn't make things just a bit easier for my friends. Think over.

I'd like to take time out right here and say welcome to the new Belle Glade Herald published for the first time in Belle Glade last week. I've been thinking of the stockholders of the new corporation that Joe Hill, formerly of the Post-Times, is to be the new editor. I've known Joe since I came to the Lake Region. He is a splendid newspaper man. A good fellow. And, I think he's too bad—since he was born and raised within thirty miles of my home town in Indiana.

I've tried raising flowers. I've taken a fling at gardening on a small scale. I've also tried my hand at raising beans. None of them turned out any too good. Now, I've thoroughly made up my mind to make an effort to raise corn. It may be a costly experiment but I can't see how I could turn out any worse than the other ideas I've had. I'm planning to "order off" for the first batch the next few days. I have my friends, if you're in the market for a few fryers within the next few weeks—just give me a ring—phone number is Pahokee 2661.

Lawrence Thresh Switch On Ashwell

W. Hiram Lawrence, sheriff of Palm Beach county, threw the switch Monday morning when the state executed the death sentence of Francis D. Ashwell for the slaying of Francis Dunn of Miami on the beach near Boca Raton last summer. A full of witnesses were present for the execution after which the body of the slayer was consigned to the prison burial ground.

New Sidewalk Built At Pahokee School

Workers have finished their task of laying a new concrete walk from the sidewalk to the high school building in Pahokee. Hereafter, the way has been low and subject to water overflow during heavy rain. Painters are completing their job of redecorating the exterior of the high school building. The new coat of paint lends an air of attractiveness to the building. Barney Whitman, Pahokee painter, was in charge of the job of painting.

Sugar Cane Work Is Sugar Plan At Belle Glade Plant

Agronomist Points Out Results Of Years Of Labor

A few weeks ago there appeared in the columns of this newspaper an article on the "Efficient Sugar Cane" in Florida. The article was based on a bulletin received in "this office" from Washington. The article referred to the U. S. Sugar Plant test station at Canal Point, which in years gone by has been doing noble work in the propagation of sugar cane. However, the article failed to mention the fact that like work has been done for years at the Everglades Experiment Station near Belle Glade.

P. D. Stevens, sugarcane agronomist, in a letter this week calls attention to the many years of labor devoted to sugar cane at the Belle Glade station. Among other things he says:

"Your article on Chlorotic Streak is at once interesting and exceedingly important, in that it says the greatest hazard for this ailment is the possibility of someone bringing in a piece of cane from Louisiana or Georgia and planting it in the Everglades without realizing that it will be superior to present varieties." Planters here know that since 1920 the state has had a staff of workers busy at their Everglades Experiment Station selecting cane properly suited to growth and production in both bottom and sugar recovery on the savanna grass lands of the region. As late as 1924 years back growers began to appreciate the fact of selectivity in plants as to soil and climate conditions. Previous to this there existed a more or less regular practice of smuggling seed from other countries. Varieties so named were not well here, were soon forgotten and the practice of making such importations gradually drew cane into the hands of outstanding value for local planting have been developed and distributed.

"The new cane varieties are being planted in the Everglades Experiment Station workers, and local growers have extended plantations of commercial varieties. There remains small reason to seek for better varieties (desire) where the purpose is to grow for sugar, or forage purposes."

"It has been a matter of pride to keep cane to keep cane supply at this station as clean and free of disease and insect pests as possible has been kept in the hands of the state. Now, that the planting is made at some distance from our general planting, this that we may be satisfied that no new disease or insect gains a spread throughout the state. The cane has been adopted after an experience with the West Indian Cane Mite, which came to this place from Florida and the state. Fortunately, these cuttings were planted some distance from other cane. Discovery of the mite was made in 1931. A few seed cuttings of this cane were planted in an isolated field. After salvaging planting material the original planting was pulled out root and stem and burned to the trash pile and burned. Equally as vigilant watch is kept for other threats to the crop, as well as for the mite.

"The article says a bad mite was introduced into the state from Georgia in 1932. Mosaic was found in Georgia and Louisiana in 1931 as early as April, 1930 when state workers initiated their sugarcane program."

"Seed cane used in this area should be obtained through the Division of Sugar Planting at Washington, very good if they offer building, better than has been made in the new coat of paint. The new coat of paint lends an air of attractiveness to the building. Barney Whitman, Pahokee painter, was in charge of the job of painting."

New Plant Prints First Issue Of Paper

The new plant of Belle Glade Publishers, Inc., went into operation last week and produced Vol. 1, No. 1, of the Belle Glade Herald. The Herald is the successor to the Belle Glade Tribune, a weekly newspaper started nearly a year ago under the management of Paul Clarke. The new corporation recently installed equipment for printing a newspaper and commercial job work. Joe Hill, of the Post-Times staff, has been retained to edit the new newspaper. It was started last week by Luther Jones, one of the members of the new corporation. A new building in which the Herald is located, has been erected just south of the Belle Glade Lumber company.

Beacham, McCarty See No New Taxes Forthcoming

Senate President & House Speaker On Vero Program

VERO BEACH, Fla., July 31. A pledge of harmonious cooperation between the house of representatives and the senate at the next session of the state legislature was given by both Senator John H. Beacham, of West Palm Beach, and Representative Don McCarty, of Fort Pierce, as they met as speakers on a chamber of commerce dinner program here Wednesday.

Senator Beacham is president-elect of the senate and McCarty is speaker-designate of the house. The occasion which brought these two leaders together for the first time since their having been elected to the senate and house, respectively, was a joint meeting staged by the senior civic body with the Kiwanis club as host and the Rotary club and Junior Chamber of Commerce co-sponsoring. It was held at the Woman's club building, with Charles A. Mitchell, president of the senior chamber, presiding.

Senator Beacham, who was introduced by Senator O. R. Kinn, of Stuart, announced his intention of appointing some of the most important committee chairmen for senate at least on days prior to the session, to permit them to gather factual material and conduct public opinion. He stated that the most serious problem to be faced by the legislature will be that of the new income tax and the new income tax. Senator McCarty, who was introduced by Merrill Barker, asserted his belief that, in spite of all the schemes in income and the new income tax, the state treasury it would not be necessary to increase taxes.

"The answer to the tax situation is to be found in greater efficiency of administration," he claimed.

Fishing Editor Finds Good Spot To Relax

The fishing editor of this newspaper, who would rather relax under a big shade tree than in the hot sun, reports that "Grass Hummock" (and that's the proper way to spell it) is the ideal spot for a fellow who would rather rest than fish. Of course, there are plenty of black bass in the Kissimmee river and the trip is loaded if you feel energetic enough to go after them. The post week end revealed to us the best spot. The editors are equipped with running water, shade and electric lights. All the conveniences of a home, situated on the banks of the famous Kissimmee. It's just two hours drive from Canal Point and the trip is loaded if you feel energetic enough to go after them. The post week end revealed to us the best spot. Say Party Has Lost Influence By Neglecting Youngsters

Charging that the party had suffered in influence as a result of neglecting the younger set, the Young Democrats requested a resolution be passed by the county court, headed by Waring T. Miller, chairman, to adopt a resolution demanding that the organization be made relative to all future appointments to federal, state or county offices.

The first week of August. Already tractors are roaring over the magic muck of the Everglades preparatory to another crop season.

Federal work on the Lake Okeechobee dike has stimulated business in Lake towns during the summer. The regular payrolls will be missed when the dike work is completed in early fall.

Belle Glade's annual election is scheduled for Tuesday, September 10. Two councilmen are to be elected. Within a few days aspirants to the council job will be making their intentions known.

We were more than delighted to see the state road department enter striping machine in the Glades during the week. Those bright yellow lines help to keep motorists where they belong.

If you haven't bought your driver's license yet, we suggest that you get around to it right away. One of those claps in a state patrol car may halt you any day and ask to see the little card. It may prove embarrassing if you don't have one.

This newspaper suggested a new road from Belle Glade to Pahokee. We maintain the idea is a good one but, as yet, we haven't heard a word from a soul in either town. Well, maybe they just don't want a new road between the two thriving towns.

A GLADES-WIDE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CAN ACCOMPLISH GREAT THINGS IN YEARS TO COME

Who says it isn't so?

A Glades-wide chamber of commerce can accomplish great things in the years that lie ahead of us. Such an organization can work toward the goal of cementing firmly the associations and friendships of citizens in every community on the shores of Lake Okeechobee. While doing such a lack of other good results are sure to crop out—and, after all anything that is good for one town in the Glades just can't do any harm to such a vast agricultural section.

It is a prosperous and ever-growing Lake Region to which we look forward. Not one town developed at the expense of another. It is a section of livelihood-earning families, secure in the knowledge that this area is founded on something substantial, that we hope for in days to come. Not towns of mushroom growth with foundations built on sand.

An organization such as we have suggested has much material with which to work. A far-flung farming community with its rich muck soil unsurpassed by any in the world. A citizenry with a pioneering spirit second to none. A group of business and professional men—with proper leadership —who will make of this an outstanding area from many standpoints. Adequate churches, growing schools and the hundred and one other things that would go to make up a prosperous community—all add up to one thing—a growing community that has untold opportunities in the offing. Those opportunities lying dormant at present, all for the need of an organization to lead the way to bigger and better things.

CONTRIBUTION TO FREEDOM

Choose any alert boy or girl who stood for anything in the class of 1940. Find out by a few friendly questions what he or she wants.

Romance! That will be the answer. Romance of choosing a career. Romance of courtship and marriage. Romance of climbing the ladder of life with more income from year to year, more power, more freedom to enjoy all the things that loom large in the heart of youth.

Your alert young friend may find his first job right at hand in business of farming. Or he may elect more years of training for medicine, engineering, law, or the other professions. But the boy or girl you question knows that in our country, in normal times, complete freedom of choice will be given. In America the choice of a career is entirely free.

And the boy or girl knows that this freedom is the result of the American system of free enterprise. Every career, from the presidency of our nation to similar or other institution, is open to the talents of him or her who can climb. This freedom was won for us by hosts of Americans who chose their own careers, installed as much machinery and other aids as they needed, and what selling was necessary to keep their farms and factories busy, and used whatever aids in selling were legitimate and in the public interest.

One of these aids is advertising. Advertising spreads the news and speeds up the sales of only those products and services which deserve to be speeded. Any intelligent young American, no matter what distorted or ignorant teaching he has received in school, is far smarter than those teachers and text book writers who claim that the intensive advertising of good commodities and services has been a detriment.

WINDMILLS VS. MOSQUITOES

From a county engineer at Vero Beach comes a brand new idea among the many which have been advanced to rid the East Coast of its mosquitoes. This being mosquito season, it is a time when almost any suggestion, however absurd it may appear in the surface, is certain to get some attention. Some day the problem will be solved.

The latest idea is a series of windmills of appropriate design to be placed along the shores of the Indian river and in the marsh areas, to be used in pumping out the water that floods those areas in summer.

The prevalence of winds along the coast at all hours of the day and night during the summer months is pointed to as an assurance that the mills would be kept busy. The engineer also claims that the windmills would add to the attractiveness of the river section. We are not so certain of this, but attractive or not, we're for the idea if it is practical. Anything to blight the insects. —Tusculum Star-Advocate.

to create. There were some who stood by to help create a new and better world upon the ruins and ashes of the present conflict.

Such a move would have been in keeping with the long established policy of those nations that today find themselves in a death struggle, and only would have served to generate distrust, jealousy and misunderstanding between this country and Latin America.

By treating her sister republics as equals, and by assuming their share of the responsibility and join with her on a basis of full equality in working out a plan for the solution of the problem, the United States gives concrete evidence of her good faith, establishes the fact that she has no territorial ambitions, and paves the way for a closer understanding and a unity of thought and action as far as the western world is concerned.

With Europe, Asia and Africa hopelessly enmeshed in a "total" war, civilizing letters on the brink and the hope of mankind today rests on the ability of the western hemisphere to maintain

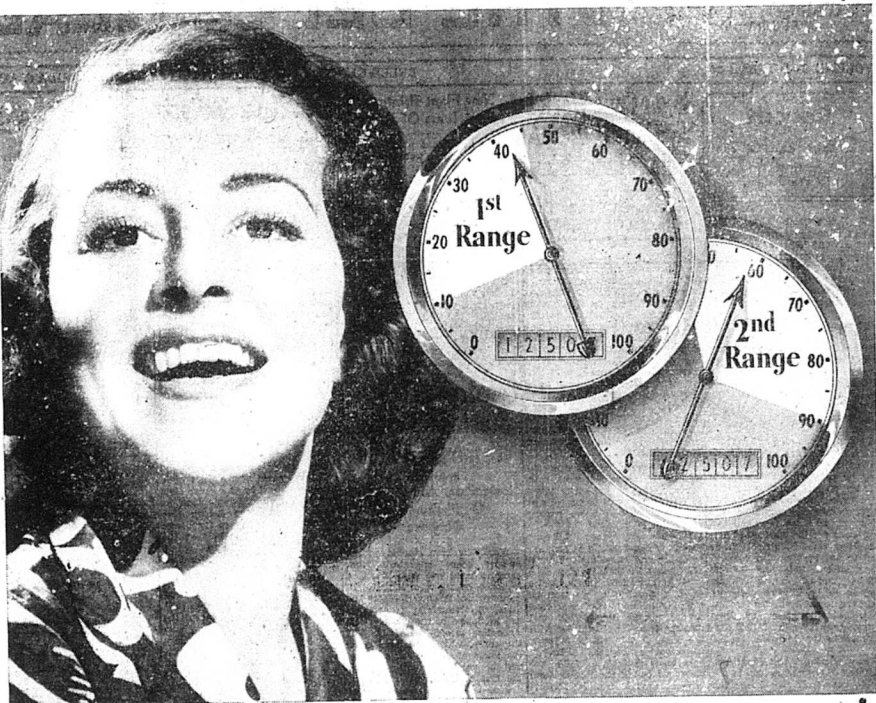

Secretary Cordell Hull in Havana last week. His work and that of his co-workers around their conference table made history; the world will long remember and the results of which will have a direct bearing on the future of all mankind.

"I get Double Range Anti-Knock!"

Every motorist knows that there are two important ranges of acceleration where highest anti-knock performance is needed. For example, you need knockless power at 10 to 45 miles per hour for acceleration in traffic and 45 to 90 miles per hour for passing other cars and climbing hills. Some gasolines may give high anti-knock in one range but not in the other. But the new Sinclair H-C combines high anti-knock performance in both ranges.

With the Double-Range anti-knock in H-C you also get other remarkable qualities in performance. You get quick starting—rapid pick-up—smooth power—and long mileage.

Try a complete tankful of the new Double-Range H-C in your car today. Your nearby Sinclair dealer sells it at regular price. You will find it adds to the pleasure of driving and helps reduce motoring expense as well! Ask for the new Sinclair H-C.

For performance, no gasoline at regular price is superior to the new Sinclair H-C.

FULLER'S FULMINATIONS

by Fuller Warren

THE INCREDIBLE TRUTH

When you are telling the truth that has all the earmarks of falsehood it is mighty comforting to have someone come forth and corroborate your comments. This happened to me recently.

Several of us lawyers and a few other loafers were loitering in the "conspiracy room" of the Duval County Criminal Court, while waiting for a jury to bring in its verdict. Tall tales were being told by first one and then another. One of the boys said he was returning on a Sunday afternoon from a week-end of "fishing" down in Marion County. He said he was driving his car down a country road through a wooded section of that county when he saw a large gopher about 100 yards ahead of him moving slowly toward the road.

He kept driving and when he covered this distance the gopher was almost exactly in the middle of the road, crossing to the other side. He started to drive his car over the gopher. It stopped there suddenly. Then the front part of the car began to move to the side of the road and shortly the car was being dragged through the weeds, the engine having stalled. He jumped out of the car and looking underneath, saw that the front axle of the car had become lodged on the back of the large gopher, and was being borne rapidly to the gopher's hole presumably. He said he grabbed his gun, shot the gopher, hired a truck to haul him to Jacksonville, and here he was. He said he had gopher stew for weeks afterward.

This reminded me of an actual incident that took place over in the lower end of Washington County about thirty years ago, so I tip and spoke about as follows: "That reminds me of the tragic end of my friend Dutchie Ben Jorden's father. He was a gopher catcher by occupation and he piled his profession in a county over in West Florida that adjoins the county where I was born and lived until I moved here.

Drive For Funds Is Halted In County

Solicitation of funds for Red Cross relief activities among European war refugees, was definitely at an end in Palm Beach county on Tuesday.

O. A. Gane, chairman of the county chapter, reported that he had received notice from the national headquarters in Washington that solicitations could be stopped at once, although encouragement was given to such benefit activities as sewing and knitting garments.

A total of $11,000.00 in contributions in Palm Beach county was reported by Gane. This is less than $3,000 under the quota of $14,000. Large Worth, with nearly $2,000 collected toward its quota of $2,000, had already ceased solicitations.

Band Committee Has Benefit Bridge Party

Friends and supporters of the Pahokee School band gathered in the Woman's club building Tuesday night and played bridge and added a few dollars to the school band treasury. There were several who purchased tickets to the affair who did not attend. However, their money went for a worthy cause. Light refreshments were served to those in attendance. A complete check-out of the band's money went for a worthy cause. Light refreshments were served to those in attendance. A complete check-out of the band's money went for a worthy cause. New Booklet Tells Of Sugar Industry

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 1 (FNS)—"Florida's Sugar Bowl" is the title of another attractive booklet issued this week by the Florida Department of Agriculture.

Consisting of 56 pages, the new booklet tells the complete story of Florida's sugar industry. It contains many full page illustrations of the huge United States Sugar Corporation's fields and mill at Clewiston. A description of the methods of growing the cane, its harvest, pressing and finally the actual sugar production, is all covered in the booklet.

The two color cover is an attractive combination of a green half-tone of a portion of a Florida sugarcane field, with the title of the booklet appearing at the top in brilliant orange lettering. The job was turned out by the Orange Press of Winter Park. Copies may be secured upon request from the Department of Agriculture, Tallahassee.

The Navy Department announced last week the award of a $10,000 contract for the construction of a destroyer and tender moorings at the Key West Naval Station to Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp., New York City. Contract calls for the job's completion within 10 days.

The subscription price of The Everglades News will be raised on October 1, 1925, from $2.00 a year to $2.50.

J. H. Tidwell has installed fine mirrors in his barber shop. The Tidwells are happy parents of a nine baby boy.

License to wed was issued at West Palm Beach Wednesday to Geo. C. McFarly and Miss Juanita Elliott.

Passenger service on the Florida East Coast railroad will be extended to Canal Point, September 1, it is indicated by the progress made in the past 30 days in the surfacing of the grade. This will supplement the pre-pay freight service that has been in effect for 6 days. Regular train service will be put into effect as soon as the line can be turned over to the operating department.

Dick Darrow left Saturday for Chicago, where he will be gone for three months, completing his course for a certified public accountant.

The Standard Apple Inn will be moved east on Canal Street from near the office of the Everglades News to lots 31 and 32 in block 12 on the same street, a distance of about 375 feet, to a point a little east of the spurway and about opposite the former location of J. E. Carter's store.

Files were driven this week on lot 27, block 1, for a building for Howard Sharp, to which the office of The Everglades News will be moved. The present building to be joined to the new.

Arrangements for transforming the Canal Point High School into a vocational high school emphasizing agriculture are proceeding rapidly and will be accomplished by the opening of school this fall. J. A. Young, Jr., superintendent of Public Instruction, said.

STARTING BABY CHICKS SIX TIMES A YEAR HELPS MAINTAIN HIGHER AVERAGE EGG YIELD AND INCOME

This plan keeps just enough pullets coming in to provide full houses of laying birds all year long.

Many poultry raisers today are wisely maintaining steady year-round egg production and egg income by starting baby chicks six times a year, according to J. H. Burrell, Purina Mills Poultry Specialist. This is much more efficient and profitable, he says, than the age-old practice of starting one or two batches of chicks in the spring with resulting "peaks and valleys" in egg volume and earnings throughout the whole production cycle.

"On the old one-or-two-times basis," says Burrell, "poultry raisers built up markets at certain seasons of the year when they had plenty of eggs. Then they lost those markets at other seasons because they were out of eggs. But this up-and-down problem is now being eliminated by poultrymen who put out 4 to 6 broods of chicks during the year, according to the size of their flocks. The new plan keeps just enough pullets coming in to maintain full houses of laying birds all year."

How the Plan Works
"An individual poultry farm I know of that is brooding chicks six times a year has a total laying capacity of 2,500 birds. They 'take off' 750 chicks per hatch starting in January and continuing once a month through April. The first and sixth hatches come off in September and October. By this procedure they bring 300 pullets into production in June, July, August, September, February and April and are able to keep the flock at full 2,500 bird laying capacity the year around. The balance of the pullets resulting from this system are sold."

"Obviously, months and dates for putting such a plan into effect may be changed by a poultry raiser to any months suitable for rounding out the program to fit individual locations and circumstances," says Burrell. "The big point is that such a system when properly functioning helps to furnish a uniform weekly supply of eggs throughout the year."

Salesmanship Important Factor
"Another important step in paring the way to poultry profits is to practice salesmanship in the merchandising of eggs and poultry meats," says Burrell. "When a poultry raiser knows he is producing a quality product he should have an effective method for telling people about it in a truthful, convincing way. Of course the only way to develop and maintain this system is through following a well planned, workable program that operates on the basis of high uniform production, efficient labor and low overhead."
